LOVED PAAPA'S COACHMAN

A Sensational Elopement at Yonkers, New York.

Break of the Beautiful and Accomplished Daughter of Jay Gould's Confidential Secretary—The Parents Crazed with Grief.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—P. J. Shelling, coachman of G. P. Morioli, at Yonkers, Jay Gould's private secretary, has eloped with Victoria, Morioli's daughter, a young lady of twenty-three years, a blonde and handsome, and the greatest excitement prevailing in the city.

Shelling had been for some years in the employ of Mr. Morioli, but was discharged on the first of the month. He is of the same age as Victoria, and is of light complexion. He is five feet nine inches in height, of slim build, with wavy brown hair, he wears a small mustache and side whiskers, is considered handsome and has a rakish air about him which made him popular with all the female demimonde in Yonkers. The Morioli household is a large stone mansion, with beautiful gardens surrounding it, and the stables away in the rear, hidden by shrubbery. Shelling, who is a German, had full charge of the horses and carriages, of which his employer had the best in the town. About two weeks ago Mr. Morioli began to notice that Victoria was spending much of her time in the coachman's society.

She would frequently order her carriage and always bring along as her coachman. Then the other members of the family became suspicious, and told her that they were watching her. Shelling, who was seen to be making love to Victoria, Mr. Morioli then watched his daughter, and discovered Shelling with her arm around her waist, and was horribly surprised to see the girl made no resistance, and, in fact, rather seemed to court the attentions of the coachman. The old man rushed in between them, and there was an awful scene as he seized his daughter and ordered Shelling to leave the house immediately. The young man said nothing, but sneaked away. The love making occurred about ten days ago.

The following evening one of his fellow servants took his clothing and it was supposed that he would leave Yonkers. He did not do so, but loitered about the house and succeeded in seeing Victoria twice after that time. The first time he met her by the river bank, a short distance from the house, and was with her probably half an hour. A few days afterward he met her again in the garden as night was coming on. They were together for over an hour, and the conversation they made their plan for eloping. Chief of Police Mangin, on hearing of the elopement, immediately searched all the streets of Yonkers, but without success. Without discovering any trace of the fugitives, when he became convinced that the pair had gone to New York, he ordered Yonkers to be searched at 3 o'clock train for this city. In fact, they were last seen about that time at a little station called Lardford. During the search, the Morioli family employed to police headquarters in this city. Acting Inspector Copeland, who was then on duty, replied he could do nothing for him, as he discovered the loving couple, for they were both of age.

There was no sleep in the Morioli mansion last night. When a reporter entered the grounds an hour after midnight, the whole house was lighted up. When the reporter reached the door was opened by the youngest daughter, who was fully dressed. She said like one insane—throw the door wide open and then slammed open the door of the parlor to a seat in which she sat motionless. Shelling had come down stairs in his night-clothing, accompanied by his eldest son, who stood by his side. Holding his hand the old man said, impetuously:

"What news! What news! Have you heard of her? Great God! I am heartbroken and her mother is upstairs dying!" He uttered for a moment, and would have fallen in the broad corridor had not his son and daughter run forward and supported him.

"I'll catch that rascal," he cried. "I will kill him as sure as there is a God above us!" He then described the coachman, saying: "He has a head like a lion and a sloping forehead. He was corpulent and filthy in habit and on the whole he was an uncleanly person as one would care to see. I never suspected anything of the kind between him and my daughter. I have noticed that she was growing thinner, and I never suspected that she was soiled my banker at Columbia and asked him for $1,000. I did not know of that until to-day."

"Where do you suppose they have gone?" asked the reporter.

"I do not know. He has friends in Europe, and they may have taken passage there, or they may be on their way to the West where Shelling also has friends. He told me the name of the place out to me, I have forgotten. Shelling has $750 in his pocket, and the Blocker Savinina Bank, but I do not know whether he has drawn it. The arrangement for the elopement was made by a planned some days ago. I do not think my daughter had very much money. She had always been liberally supplied with money and I may say that I never suspected anything of the kind between him and my daughter. I have noticed that she was growing thinner, and I never suspected that she was soiled my banker at Columbia and asked him for $1,000. I did not know of that until to-day."

are pupils at Mount St. Vincent's Academy, which is but a short distance from their father's house. Mr. Morioli goes very little into society, but his daughters with his two sons are on intimate terms with the Morioli families. Their faces are familiar to all the townspeople, as their carriages and fine horses always attract attention and are seen every day in the streets and along country roads. The people in the neighborhood who know Mr. Morioli say that he will go along with Shelling should he cross into him, as the old gentleman is so very hot-headed that he will probably resort to violence should he lay his hands on the young coachman.

G. P. Morioli is an Italian, and has always claimed he came to this country as a refugee, accompanying Garibaldi and his wife. When Garibaldi resided in humble quarters on Staten Island, Morioli was his constant companion, and their friendship was of the most fraternal character. Morioli made his entrance to Wall street as a sort of office attendant of Jay Gould when the latter had a small room back of the Union Pacific building on Nassau street. He was then working on a salary and acted as a body-guard to Mr. Gould. He made a great deal of money and had a happy family of eight children, being regarded in Wall street as very close in all his dealings, public and private.

When the Federal control of the Erie Road, Morioli assisted them, in return for which he was made Auditor, a position he held partly through the administration of John A. Dix and President Grant. When Mr. Gould decided to put his son George into business, he organized the present firm of George & W. E. Connor, George Gould and W. P. Morioli, Jay Gould becoming a special partner, and giving the firm the benefit of all his vast wealth. The business, Connor & Co. have made a great deal of money, have been what is called in Wall street, "very successful," and Morioli is believed to be worth between $50,000 and $100,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Captain Mangin, of Colerick and two of his officers, Inspector Byrnes and half a dozen Central Office detectives scoured the city last night for Miss Victoria Morioli, who was reported to have been married by a West Indian in East Fifty-first street. On the discovery of the marriage, Inspector Byrnes sent out the following general alarm to commanders and the one sent last night:

"Victoria Morioli and A. J. Shelling are married, and cannot be traced. It is said Shelling is of noble birth, but poor. Miss Victoria Morioli met him first at the Blocker Savinina Bank, and was with him for half an hour. A few days afterward he met her again in the garden as night was coming on. They were together for over an hour, and the conversation they made their plan for eloping. RAVAGES FROM CHOLERA

The Alarming Spread of the Epidemic in Italy.

Panic-stricken Naples—Excitement Over the Report that Virgin Mary Had Descended into the City—The King Visiting the Sick.

NAPLES, Sept. 11.—During the last twenty-four hours there have been 700 fresh cases of cholera and 300 deaths in this city, and the town presents a gloomy aspect. Scores of adults with acutely tearing pains have been borne at the head of processions of women through the streets, who invoke the help of the Virgin. A large crowd assembled outside the Church of San Gerardo in consequence of a report that the Virgin Mary had descended upon the altar and bestowed her blessings upon the people. The doors of the church were closed and the crowd attempted to break them open. The priests arriving, however, the doors were opened and the multitude rushed in, fell upon their knees, and engaged in fervent prayers.

King Humbert, after visiting the poorer portions of the city, inspected the Christal-Hospital. He declined the use of disinfectants while making a tour of the wards in the hospital. The King was accompanied by his brother, the Duke of Aosta, a signor deputed Minister of the Interior, Signor Stancini, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The burial of the dead victims of the cholera is found to be very difficult, owing to the unusually large number so suddenly meeting their end.

A soldier who was suffering from a violent attack of cholera, was taken to the hospital, where he died. The soldier was a native of the Kingdom of Naples, and was in the service of the Italian army. He was taken to the hospital on the morning of the 10th inst., and died on the 11th inst. The soldier was a native of the Kingdom of Naples, and was in the service of the Italian army. shark were almost hidden in blood. The shark made a terrible plunge, rolled over on its stomach, and when within three feet of the shore turned and disappeared in the deep water.

Taylor swam ashore without the knife. "I left it sticking in the case," he said. "The carcass will be found in a couple of days. I have seen the natives in Florida and Bermuda often kill sharks in this way. When a shark turns on its back, which it has to do to bite anything, it cannot turn its course easily, because the eyes are under. There is no danger so long as a man jumps behind the head and does not get struck by the tail. I cut a gash in that fellow almost one foot long and six inches deep."

RIOTING POLANDERS
Who Hoped to be Arrested for Heat-Peddler.

MONTANA, Pa., Sept. 11.—A clothing peddler, who visited this place last night and took a large order for clothing among the Slovaks and Poles returned yesterday to deliver the goods. The purchasers demanded a pair of socks from each of the peddlers, and finally drove the peddler out of the village, after giving him a good beating. He returned last night with reinforcements, and warrants for his assailants. Three Slovaks were arrested, and as they were being led away their countrymen and the Poles set upon the officers and rescued the prisoners. A general riot ensued in which three of the residents were probably fatally injured. The names of the rioters are being sought. Most of the rioters are hiding in the woods.

UNPROVOKED MURDER.
Young Man Shot Down Without Warning—Prospective Lynching.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 11.—At 3 o'clock Wednesday night a young man, who was approached by Eugene Connelley, a young man who was sitting on the street corner, and without warning a word, shot the latter in the left breast. Connelley was at once arrested and jailed. A short time afterward a mob was organized to lynch Connelley, but prompt action by the police frustrated the intention. Members of the mob say they will yet lynch Connelley. The cause of the shooting is not understood, as nothing had ever passed between the parties. Connelley was released from jail only on Sunday night after serving a sentence for assault. Connelly will die.

AN APPLE CUTTING
That Would Up in a Riot and One Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 11.—News has reached here of a serious riot which occurred near Fairplay, Polk County, last Saturday night. A large crowd of young folks had assembled at the widow's house, where an apple cutting was in progress. In the midst of the festivities two young men got into an altercation when James Reid went to the assistance of one of them. Another man, William Bayless, then attacked Reid. The latter used a slingshot, wounding Bayless down a large back-knife and cut his arm. Bayless was then stamped him with his feet. Reid fled from his injuries in about an hour. Bayless gave himself up to the authorities at Fairplay Monday.

SPOILING FOR A FIGHT.
An Excuse for the Unlittles to Don the Red Patch.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 11.—Since the lynching of the Indian at Cheney, in Washington Territory, for brutally outraging a white woman a few days ago, the Indians of that region have been very sullen and insolent toward the whites. They all claim that the victim was entirely innocent of the heinous offense. Many Indians are adorning themselves with war paint, and serious trouble is feared. The lynched Indian belongs to the Chinook tribe, and was hated by the whites and anxious to have provocation for a fight.

"NOT GUILTY"
Is the Plea for the Dead Bank President.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 11.—The following notice was found in Mr. Rumney's pocket after his death:

"TO ALL CONCERNED: I have never taken any share from this bank, except the $5,000 I drew, without giving a good indorse at the time, or security for the full amount of loan at that time."

The dead man's friends had the announcement with triumph. It is thought the "witness" referred to is a $5,000 note given by himself and Hill, which is all that is reported so far to be not covered by collateral.

The campaign in Ohio will be regularly opened this week by both Democrats and Republicans, and there will be five weeks of hot work.

It is generally admitted throughout the country that the big vote given prohibition in Maine means a German-Democratic alliance in Ohio.

BLAINE will withdraw that suit against the Indianapolis Sentinel. When he fired his gun off at the Hoosier he little thought he would get so hot back.

The site for the new penitentiary at Eddyville has been selected and the work of construction is to begin immediately, and will be pushed along with rapidity.

There are rumors at Washington City that the Stalwarts of Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania, will hold a conference at an early day, with a view to bring in a body to the support of Cleveland.

Eight hundred fresh cases of cholera and three hundred deaths are reported at Naples. The condition in the city is described as harrowing, and scenes of wretchedness of the most pitiable character occur on every side.

A DESPATCH in the Boston Post from Portland, Maine, charges that Mr. Blaine is directly responsible for the publication of the scandalous Cleveland, and shows that this complex was given to the campaign by Mr. Blaine's personal friends and campaign managers after full consultation with him.

MR. WADSWORTH while a representative in Congress, as we shall presently show, opposed the emancipation of slaves. This is a little fact to which we call the attention of the enthusiastic colored Blaine and Logan club, which the other day pledged its support to him. We do not ask you to believe as but read the official record when your attention is called to it.

The latest returns show that the Republican plurality in Maine is about 16,700. The House will be composed of one hundred and seventeen Republicans and thirty-four Democrats, a Republican gain of seven. The Senate will stand thirty-one Republicans and no Democrats. Mr. Blaine's own city gave a majority 232 greater than ever known and his county gives 3,400 majority.

PROF. JOSEPH DEANE PICKETT, a native of Mason County, as pure a man as ever lived, an educated gentleman, and a warm personal friend of Mr. Wadsworth's, was last year a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. He was better qualified by knowledge and experience than the other than any other person in the State. Did Mr. Wadsworth vote for his personal friend? No he did not. He voted, unless the polls books be for, Clergyman Pinkerton, a chronic Republican office seeker, for the simple reason that he was of that political faith and Prof. Pickett was a Democrat. Do any of Mr. Wadsworth's Democratic friends love him well enough to vote for him this time. If they do they will vote for a man that loves his party better than he does his warmest personal friend.

Resolutions Adopted by the National Prison Association.

SARATOGA, Sept. 11.—At the Convention of the National Association of the United States, Prof. Francis Wayland, of Yale College, offered the following resolution which was adopted by General Brotherhood, of Ohio, and unanimously adopted by the meeting:

"WHEREAS, Owing to the diversity of procedure among the States and Territories in the United States in the matter of the extradition of fugitives from justice, arising chiefly from the doubts which exist as to the meaning of the Constitution and statutes of the United States in relation to this subject; and

"WHEREAS, It is desirable that crime should be properly and speedily punished wherever committed; and

"WHEREAS, It is believed that it is entirely feasible to secure by concerted and proper action the adoption of uniform rules and practices between the States and Territories; therefore,

"Resolved, That a committee of this association, consisting of three persons, be appointed by the association, with power to so advise other persons as they may deem it advisable, to take such steps as may be necessary to bring about the adoption of uniform rules and practices between the States and Territories of the United States regulating the extradition of fugitives from justice."

THE NILE EXPEDITION.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The steamship Ocean King has been chartered for the conveyance of the Canadian contingent to Egypt. It is lying just now in Long Wharf, waiting for 500 men fitted up. It is expected that the Western contingent will arrive tomorrow, and the remainder Saturday. Dr. Nelson, of "B" Battery, who accompanies the Canadian contingent, is it is the city and is now superintending the sanitary affairs of the Ocean King and getting medical supplies on board. In an interview he said:

"It is understood that the duties of the contingent will be to command boats. That is to say, two regiments will be told off for each boat—some to be stationed in the bow and the other in the stern, and soldiers will man the oars. The entire expedition will be conducted on tactical principles. Lord Valley having determined to follow the precedent made in Red River.

THE STARVING PIEGANS

Steel 100 Horses from the Crow Indians—A Hunting Fight.

St. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11.—Information has been received from the department headquarters from the commanding officer at Fort Carson, Montana Territory, that on the night of the 9th inst. the Piegans, Indians, stamped and ran off about 100 horses belonging to the Crow Indians who were camped near McNell's ranch, about eighteen miles from the fort. The Crows had a running fight with the Piegans and report one Piegans killed, but failed to recover the stock.

Sept. 10, the Crow Indians brought the news to Fort Carson, stating that the Piegans were believed to be going north to their reservation, and he was certain they will pass near Fort Carson.

Upon receipt of the news General Terry immediately ordered the officers in command at Fort Carson to detach a party to intercept the Indians. A detachment from Fort Carson, consisting of sixteen men of the First Cavalry, under command of Lieutenant McDermott of the First, is now in pursuit of the Piegans with instructions to capture the thieves and recover the stolen stock.

A TRAMP TIED TO A TREE

As a Means of Abating the Tramp Nuisance,

Where the Poor Fellow Remained, Unable to Move, for Five Days Without Food—Found by Boys and Released.

PORTVILLE, Pa., Sept. 11.—Tramps of a professional character have infested the mining towns in this region for several months, committing all manner of depredations. The inhabitants have become thoroughly annoyed and have resolved to rid themselves of the nuisance. The miners' families in the western end of the county have been particularly annoyed by these tramps, and a number of men formed themselves into an exterminating committee, and vowed that an example should be made of the man who caught in the vicinity. A sharp lookout was kept for several days. On Wednesday last week two of the expected victims put in an appearance. They remained about two miles until evening, when the committee above mentioned arrived and captured them, and they were hurried to the mountains. But one of them broke away and escaped; the other, however, was securely strapped, and when a certain place in the woods was reached he was made to stand firmly against a huge tree, to which he was tied hand and foot. Fine wire straps and ropes were used to complete the work, and the party returned to their homes well satisfied with the means taken to wipe out the tramp nuisance. Nothing further was heard of the tramp until this morning, when some boys who were shooting at a mark began to run across the tramp, whose position was unchanged since Wednesday. They were startled at first, but finally assumed courage to approach him. He presented a terrible sight, being almost starved. He had undergone fearful sufferings. The wire with which he was bound had sunk deep into his flesh, causing him intense pain. He was so tightly bound that an hour's effort was required for his release. The boys got him something to eat, which gave him sufficient strength to tell his story. He begged pitiously to be let off to go to a place of safety, promising never to return. The people generally are now experiencing a feeling of security from that tramp, at least for the present.

CORRESPONDENTS

Who Will Accompany the Expedition to the Congo Country.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The London papers are making elaborate preparations for reporting the progress of General Wolesey's coming campaign in the Sudan. Among the correspondents who have started, or are about to start for the seat of war, are Mr. Pearce, of the Daily News; Mr. J. A. Cameron, of the Standard; Mr. Melton, of the Daily Telegraph; and Colonel Burleigh, of the Daily Telegraph. The Globe-Williams, who has been until recently the owner of the London Evening News. Most of these are old and seasoned war correspondents. Mr. Cameron was with the Egyptian army in his ill-fated attempt to defeat El Mahdi after Hicks Pasha's defeat, and for some months Cameron was missing, and was supposed to be dead. Mr. Melton's illustrations of African war scenes have been familiar features of the Illustrated London News for many years. His achievements in that line being his sketches and drawings of General Graham's operations against Osman Digna in the vicinity of Suakin. Colonel Burleigh has been on campaign in Egypt as General Wolesey himself, and especially distinguished himself by sending the news of Wolesey's victory at Tel-el-Kebir to his paper twenty-four hours ahead of all competitors. Mr. Williams is a veteran of the Afghan campaign, and is known as a shrewd and able critic of military movements.

THE BURNED MERIDA.

Story of the Burning as Told by Purser Coffee.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Purser Coffee, of the steamer City of Merida, which was burned in the harbor at Havana on August 24, arrived here yesterday. He says the fire was discovered just forward of the engines. The smoke attracted attention on shore, and soon the steamer was surrounded by small boats. There were only eight passengers and they hardly had time to get frightened before they were hurried to safety. Captain Rettig, with great coolness, directed the efforts to check the fire which, however, were unavailing. He signalled for assistance from shore, and hand pumps were sent out, but the vessel was past saving. Finally the Havana fire department sent a band engine on a tug, but through a blunder she got to windward and the smoke prevented her doing effective work. The vessel was abandoned and soon sank. Captain Rettig was the last to leave. The purser was forward when the fire broke out and was cut off from his room where there was a large amount of specie. He finally reached his cabin by getting into a small boat and rowing aft. He saved all except some Mexican bullion amounting to about $15,000. Divers are at work and expect to secure the treasure in a short time. The Merida was 2,000 tons burden and belonged to the Alexander Line.

VERY BAD ACCIDENT.

Young Couple Killed by a Passenger Train While Out Riding.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—Albert R. Tepping, aged nineteen, son of C. H. Tepping, a leading dry goods merchant, and Miss Winifred C. Dewey, aged eighteen, daughter of Professor E. Dewey, principal of the Delevan High School, while out riding late last evening, were struck by a passenger train and instantly killed. An inquest was held to-day and the railway people exonerated them from blame. The young couple were engaged to be married shortly.

Foul Play Deceitful Death.
DUNELM, Sept. 11.—Deane Duggan, the well-known Kaitian, who was one of the racing party that sailed in the Catalpa and liberated Foulan prisoners at Fremont, Australia, is dead. He had been ill for some time. His friends in America recently raised a fund to send him home to Ireland, in order that he might die in his native land.

PEASE, Ill., Sept. 11.—The cookers of the Enterprise Distillery have exploded, tearing the building to pieces. T. H. Hiron, the United States gauger, Huffer, the engineer, and George Cook, who was badly scalded, probably fatally. Andy Duffy was tossed seventy feet through the air and instantly killed.

SALT RHEUM

And Every Species of Itching and Burning Diseases Positively Cured.

ECZEMA, or salt rheum, with its agonizing itching and burning, is usually relieved by a warm bath with Cuticura soap and a single application of Cuticura, the great skin cure. This repeated daily, with two or three doses of Cuticura, will cure the new disease. Further, to keep the blood cool, the perspiration cool and unobstructed, the bowels open, the liver and kidneys active, will speedily cure Eczema, itching, ring worm, psoriasis, Lichen pruritus, scald head, dandruff, and every species of itching, scaly, and pimpley humors of the scalp and skin, when the post physicians and all known remedies fail.

Will McDonald, 2522 Dearborn St., Chicago, unflinchingly acknowledges a cure of salt rheum on head, neck, face, arms, and legs for years, not able to walk except on hands and knees for one year; not able to help himself for eight years; tried hundreds of remedies; doctors pronounced his case hopeless; permanently cured by Cuticura. Head-vent (blood purifier) internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cure) externally.

Charles Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State street, Boston, reports a case of salt rheum under his observation for ten years, which he cured by Cuticura. He had tried every other method of treatment but had been completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

F. H. Drake, Esq., Detroit, Mich., suffered untold tortures from salt rheum which appeared on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. He tried almost every dieting and a consultation of physicians failed to relieve him. He was completely cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. John Thiel, Wilkesbarre, Pa., writes: I have suffered from salt rheum for over eight years, at times so bad that I could not attend to my business for weeks at a time. Three bottles of Cuticura, and four bottles Resolvent have entirely cured me of this disease.

Mother's Friend!

A PRECIOUS BOOK TO WOMAN.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

I most earnestly entreat every female expecting to be confined to use Mother's Friend. Coupled with this entreaty I will add that during a long obstetrical practice, (forty-four years) I have never known it to fail to produce a safe and quick delivery.

H. J. HOLMES, M.D.

A lady from one of the counties of Middle Georgia, who has been acting midwife for many years, writes: "I have disposed of all the Mother's Friend you sent me, and I am delighted with it. In every instance where it has been used, its effects have been all that I could ask. I consider it a great blessing."

A gentleman writes: "My wife used your Mother's Friend at her fourth confinement, and her testimony is that she passed through it with one-half the suffering of either of her former confinements, and recovered from its effects in much less time. She also recommended it to a lady friend who was about to be confined for the first time, and she says: "I have never seen anyone pass through this great trial with so much ease and little suffering."

A QUICK AND EASY TIME.

A distinguished physician of Mississippi writes: "Every one expecting to be confined should use the Mother's Friend, for during a long obstetrical practice I have never known it to fail to produce a quick and safe delivery."

This remedy is one about which we cannot publish testimonials, but it is a most wonderful fulfillment to be used after the first two or three months.
